1	N/A, I left after the keynote due to a conflict	10/8/2014 6:23 PM
2	as always	9/9/2014 3:53 PM
3	You took care of hotel reservations this year which was an improvement over the past.	8/11/2014 3:48 PM
4	You always do such a wonderful professional job.	8/7/2014 6:24 PM
5	The only thing lacking in terms of organization is that the volunteers did not know the WiFi conference password and it took me forever to find out what it was.	8/7/2014 5:22 PM
6	The sound system did not seem up to par.	8/5/2014 5:59 PM
7	Everything ran on time and was efficiently transitioned.	8/5/2014 5:29 PM
8	I felt like the last day lacked some direction. I went to sessions downstairs and found out things had been announce upstairs that we hadn't heard about (like turning in lanyards, donating the toiletries, and the tablet drawing).	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
9	You folks are both creative and well organized. I appreciate the fine work!	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

1	w/ the Keynote	10/8/2014 6:23 PM
2	Thank you for the ethics hours!	8/22/2014 8:35 AM
3	The break out sessions were great. The two main sessions were a little tedious.	8/17/2014 4:18 PM
4	Although all the ethics training was good, I would have preferred only 3 hours of ethics and 3 hours of substantive law on Thursday.	8/13/2014 9:46 AM
5	I understand the constraints on APAAC and every year the conference has great speakers and materials. It is very difficult to sit that long and sometimes hard to see without the screen. It would be great to have one course Wed instead of a keynote speaker so that Thursday could allow for a bit more of a break and/or Friday could start at 10 with only one class.	8/8/2014 12:19 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

6	Everything was great. OK I probably won't wear the Superman prosecutor shirt, except at home, when I'm in super hero mode . . . the towel is fantastic	8/7/2014 6:24 PM
7	Love the fact there was 6 hours of ethics CLE!	8/7/2014 5:22 PM
8	Great theme! Great speakers! And I love all of the Ethics credits! Thank you!	8/7/2014 1:21 PM
9	This conference was one of the best APAAC Summer Conferences I have attended.	8/7/2014 10:22 AM
10	It was very helpful to get the 6 hours of Ethics CLE.	8/6/2014 12:44 PM
11	This was the best summer conference ever. Great overall speakers and highly relevant to my practice.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
12	Best ever.	8/6/2014 11:26 AM
13	Thank you for all of the ethics credit!!	8/6/2014 10:57 AM
14	In addition to good presentations, the conference had nice touches like popcorn during the ethics movie. Such thoughtfulness is special.	8/6/2014 10:05 AM
15	I like the fact that we were able to get 6 hours of ethics training from the conference this year.	8/6/2014 10:01 AM
16	I would have appreciated more substance and less ethics. Only three hours of ethics were necessary. I missed having the constitutional law review, which would have been more helpful to me.	8/6/2014 7:31 AM
17	Loved snacks during break, overall good content, would want wifi in rooms downstairs for breakout sessions	8/5/2014 8:10 PM
18	Best conference I think we've ever had. Just a fantastic job by APAAC. And clearly a lot of work went into it. APAAC deserves high praise.	8/5/2014 5:40 PM
19	Best conference I have attended in my 26 years as a prosecutor!	8/5/2014 5:24 PM
20	I stayed at the Embassy Suites this year because of my family's needs. I appreciated having that option. I haven't really looked into next year's location yet but I will probably attend it and plan on accommodating my family during the conference.	8/5/2014 5:22 PM
21	Simply put, there was virtually no law at the training conference for prosecutors. These keynote speakers from the past few years, including this year, are/were terrible. The entire second day is about local Texas politics, human emotions, and ethics from two men completely unfamiliar with Arizona law. This was the worst APAAC training seminar I have ever attended. We in appeals are particularly dismayed given that this is often the only training for trial prosecutors, whose mistakes we deal with on appeal. Poor, poor training.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
22	Too much ethics, not enough substantive law. Bring back Richard Wintory or Christina Cabinillas.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
23	The presentations were fantastic and informative. But the theme (super heros) felt like it was a theme children's summer camp or theme birthday party. The theme pushed this conference from being a professional gathering, to an unprofessional space for me.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

1	I'm taking "moderately satisfied" to be a higher ranking than just "satisfied". I know some people wanted the Keynote to be more relevant but I appreciated 1) that it was something other than just law and 2) she made no bones about trying to make the presentation relevant to work as opposed to life.	8/26/2014 6:05 PM
2	I felt the keynote speaker was not relevant to prosecution. I would prefer to hear from a former prosecutor/judge. The prior two speakers were excellent.	8/26/2014 12:27 PM
3	Keynote Speaker was great	8/22/2014 5:39 PM
4	I am sorry I missed it. Heard it was great!!	8/22/2014 4:55 PM
5	The keynote speaker seemed nice but I felt like her comments didn't tie into what we do as attorneys. It was motivational in the sense that she had personally achieved/overcome a lot, but it didn't do anything to motivate me.	8/14/2014 4:12 PM
6	Super prosecutor theme was a little cheesy. The keynote speaker was not relevant to us.	8/12/2014 12:45 PM
7	Soda available for the seminars would be nice.	8/11/2014 5:49 PM
8	The keynote speaker had little relevance to legal training.	8/11/2014 4:13 PM
9	The Keynote speaker was fantastic. I really enjoyed the slide show, and appreciated the opportunity to purchase her book, have her sign it, and chat with her briefly	8/11/2014 11:42 AM
10	Keynote speaker was excellent. Very interesting.	8/11/2014 8:27 AM
11	The keynote speaker was interesting, but not particularly helpful.	8/7/2014 4:12 PM
12	I really enjoyed the keynote speaker. I thought she was very interesting and did a great job. That being said I would prefer something prosecution based that we could receive CLE credit for.	8/7/2014 3:38 PM
13	It is my preference that all presentations, including the keynote speaker, count towards CLE credit.	8/7/2014 3:20 PM
14	The theme was a little overdone,, especially when it came to introducing the nominees	8/7/2014 12:39 PM
15	The keynote speaker was the best that I recall.	8/7/2014 10:33 AM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

16	The business pitches were useless to 98% of the attendees, who have nothing to do with the decisionmaking that goes into buying licenses.	8/7/2014 10:16 AM
17	It would have been nice to have a keynote speaker related to prosecution.	8/6/2014 5:47 PM
18	After consulting the website, the agenda, and contacting APAAC by e-mail and phone, I was unable to learn the name or subject of the keynote speaker. In the absence of that data, I chose not to attend.	8/6/2014 5:02 PM
19	Had emergency with family member and arrived late.	8/6/2014 3:53 PM
20	The keynote speaker was a wonderful, engaging speaker.	8/6/2014 3:37 PM
21	While the keynote speaker was engaging and a great speaker, I would rather have someone law related and inspirational.	8/6/2014 2:53 PM
22	The keynote speaker had some good points about how to approach Himalayan tasks in life. I thought that she crossed the line with her attempt to liken those who criticized her for not reaching the peak of Mount Everest without ever climbing a mountain themselves to the Pope talking about sex. She could have made her point without risking offending Catholics in so many ways. She could have joked about Madonna talking about chastity or used Sheldon Cooper of the Big Bang Theory (himself a virgin) in place of the Pope. In my eyes, she belittled her own accomplishments and stature for getting laughs at such a cheap joke.	8/6/2014 11:33 AM
23	For the opening remarks, my suggestion would be less inclusion of the conference theme when introducing the award nominees. I know the APAAC staff worked hard to have the opening remarks be fun and engaging, but when introducing award nominees, I think a more professional introduction is appropriate to honor the hard work and professionalism of the nominees.	8/6/2014 11:26 AM
24	Best keynote speaker, she was great!	8/6/2014 11:19 AM
25	It is my opinion that we should get CLE credit for the Keynote, etc. The attendees did not get any CLE for the first day - so why come?	8/6/2014 10:57 AM
26	Always enjoy the first evening!	8/6/2014 10:23 AM
27	I was annoyed at the sales pitches made during the first evening of the seminar. It was a complete waste of time.	8/6/2014 10:20 AM
28	Unable to attend due to office obligations.	8/6/2014 10:12 AM
29	Opening remarks seem to be a waste of time and keynote speaker was not particularly relevant to prosecution.	8/5/2014 6:45 PM
30	The keynote speaker was entertaining and inspirational.	8/5/2014 6:16 PM
31	The keynote speaker was really good. I appreciated someone who is not a lawyer giving a motivational presentation.	8/5/2014 6:00 PM
32	I enjoyed the Keynote Speaker. Interesting story, she did a good job of relating it to what we do. I've never really been interested in the awards, so no judgment about how it was presented, just not interested in it. I didn't stay for the welcome reception.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
33	I enjoyed hearing Alison Levine recounting her travails and triumphs, particularly those associated with summiting Mount Everest, and their significance for us in encountering and conquering problems in the everyday world.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
34	I think we'd be better off listening to a career prosecutor with some notable work experience than someone who has never worked in our profession.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
35	i would like a list of the points made by keynote speaker. she was half way through before I realized I needed to be taking notes.	8/5/2014 5:27 PM
36	I felt the keynote speech could have been better tailored to the audience, at least by sharing more general principles of leadership. It was hard to find many tie-ins between the story of climbing Mt. Everest and situations we would actually encounter as prosecutors.	8/5/2014 5:22 PM
37	Waste of money.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
38	No motivational speaker I have listened to has ever communicated an idea that has been both substantially novel and profound.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

39	The speaker herself was great. However, it had no place at a prosecution conference. It was not relevant to prosecution, or to law enforcement, or to the legal system generally. It was a motivational speaker, I don't attend a prosecution conference to hear motivational speakers. I expect the speakers at a prosecution conference to discuss things that are relevant to prosecutors.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
40	I just really don't like the silly gimmicks like creating super villain backstories for the award recipients. It degrades the whole thing in my eyes.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
41	I would prefer a keynote speaker who had something to say about legal or prosecutorial issues.	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
42	I thought the Keynote speaker was interesting but her remarks were generic and not particularly relevant to our field.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
43	Speaker was very interesting, but nothing to do with the law.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
44	The keynote, while very entertaining and interesting, was not really what I would hope for at APAAC. The year that I remember an excellent keynote speaker was when a victim of a violent crime spoke. It was motivating and reminded us why we wanted to be prosecutors. I think it needs to have a connection to what we do and be motivating in what we do.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
45	Unable to stay for this portion	8/5/2014 5:12 PM
46	I enjoyed the nacho bar, but the margaritas were overly syrupy.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
47	I liked it all. It was nice to have the book signing afterwards.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
48	The speaker had little, if anything, to do with "being a prosecutor."	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
49	The opening remarks were not on the schedule and caused a 1-hour delay. They really aren't needed at all and award nominee summaries are already in the program.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM
50	The keynote speaker had great stories about Mount Everest. She did not link them to prosecution at all though. Would have preferred something with a legal bent to it from the keynote speaker.	8/5/2014 5:07 PM

1	My suggestion would be to somehow equalize the reasons for why the people who won the awards. For some of the speeches it seemed like supervisors wanting to put the focus on themselves and not the award winners, or the person who nominated the award winner had no idea why they won the award. Not sure how APAAC could help with that but the focus should be on the winners of the award.	8/26/2014 6:05 PM
2	towel was a nice idea but it was very thin	8/25/2014 5:45 PM
3	Waste of money.	8/25/2014 5:24 PM
4	Too many of the presenters remark's were too long. The details were provided in the program	8/15/2014 10:02 AM
5	Unfortunately I was unable to attend the lunch	8/14/2014 4:12 PM
6	Coconino County didn't seem to get the message to keep the remarks short.	8/13/2014 11:13 AM
7	I had to leave the luncheon early.	8/12/2014 12:45 PM
8	you switched the Satisfied and Moderately satisfied categories from Question 8, so I assumed the Moderately Satisfied was before Satisfied on the scale.	8/11/2014 4:41 PM
9	I think you might want to reconsider how you announce who wins the various awards. Calling up the county attorney (or other local rep) before announcing the winner kills the suspense and I think makes the awards portion more boring. I think it might make sense to announce the winner, then let the winner and the CA (or whoever else is going to speak to their accomplishments) come up during the applause, then allow for the presenter to make their remarks. To my knowledge no awards show (Oscars etc) has ever gone about announcing winners this way... I think they avoid it for a reason.	8/7/2014 1:46 PM
10	But I wish I had attended, because I really wanted one of those cool towels! :-)	8/7/2014 1:21 PM
11	We all took pictures of the superheroes wearing their "Capes" and shared.... (red P towels)	8/7/2014 1:11 PM
12	the food was surprisingly iffy	8/7/2014 10:16 AM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

13	Nothing beats the mexican buffet of yesteryear. APAAC is so thoughtful with gifts. I don't feel like I deserve any. But if gifts are going to be distributed, the most useful thing I ever received (more than 10 years ago, I think), was a black cordura nylon carry case.	8/7/2014 9:48 AM
14	Love the towel	8/6/2014 6:12 PM
15	Small food portions, limited drink options, coffee was only served at some tables, not where I was sitting.	8/6/2014 5:02 PM
16	Did not care for the couscous. I like the concept of the towel but it is made of cheap material. Better quality would be preferred.	8/6/2014 3:53 PM
17	The blankets were nice, but I really liked the pen you put in our bags.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
18	The towels are great!	8/6/2014 10:57 AM
19	I really appreciated having the different options and being able to let APAAC know about my dietary restrictions. There were still some things I could not eat, but it was very appreciated that we did have more options.	8/6/2014 10:23 AM
20	The food served at the luncheon this year was not great – it has been better in past years.	8/6/2014 10:01 AM
21	I ended up getting sick from something at lunch. I don't know what it was or why and I wasn't so sick that I had to miss the entire afternoon. I enjoyed eating lunch; it was quite good. It just seemed lunch didn't like me very much.	8/6/2014 9:27 AM
22	Vegetarian option was ok	8/5/2014 8:10 PM
23	I don't remember a gift being distributed. ...sorry	8/5/2014 7:08 PM
24	Salad was great, but the vegetarian meal mediocre.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
25	My kids loved the towel!	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
26	My only "complaint" ....I sure miss the Mexican food buffet.	8/5/2014 5:40 PM
27	I kinda miss the Mexican buffet lines we used to have at the luncheons. All this high-end, fancy "superfoods" haute cuisine is too rich for my blood; just gimme a burger or something.	8/5/2014 5:25 PM
28	I don't want any more shirts.	8/5/2014 5:24 PM
29	The food wasn't very good, and certainly wasn't filling (I was very thankful for the pretzels, popcorn, candy and pop during Ethics the Movie).	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
30	I feel all the "freebies" at the conference are a waste of $$ I would much prefer the extra $$ go to APAAC staff salaries or to defray cost of APAAC presentations.	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
31	I think the theme was fun but the portfolio and tshirt and towel with the "super prosecutor" emblem as gifts were a little pretentious. I think it's unlikely I would use these items outside of the conference and certainly would not bring the portfolio to court or a jury trial. Something a little more professional like a leather bound portfolio would be more useful.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
32	Food was horrible. Took forever and my pork was dry, dry, dry.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
33	the towels were a nice change	8/5/2014 5:13 PM
34	Unable to stay for this portion	8/5/2014 5:12 PM
35	Maybe use the leftover gifts for give-aways by the staff/presenters or make them available for sale with the proceeds going to a particular program. We had people in our office who could not go but I would loved to have bought them the shirt or towel.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
36	There was no vegan option for me, so I did not attend.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
37	Go back to the all you can eat buffet! The food you gave us left me feeling hungry!	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
38	The lunch went very smoothly and the food was very good. The "super-hero" towel was a cute idea and a useful gift!	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
39	The food was outstanding! It was the best that I have ever had at any conference. Excellent job!	8/5/2014 5:06 PM

1	The case law provided during the 404(b) lecture was extremely useful in practice. That is a great resource for newer prosecutors.	10/16/2014 1:00 PM
2	N/A	10/8/2014 6:23 PM
3	The Theme was awful and poorly executed.	8/21/2014 10:53 AM
4	Mosher's 404b handout looks like gold.	8/7/2014 10:16 AM
5	I loved getting so many ethic hrs.	8/6/2014 6:12 PM
6	The 404(b) materials were great! I will use them as a resource.	8/6/2014 3:37 PM
7	I realize it is a little extra cost, but putting it on a thumb drive, as you did a few years ago, would be helpful. The downloadable materials were great and should continue, because it allowed me just bring my iPad to the conference, but I did not want to waste a forest to print them out. Having the thumb drive not only allows easy access later, but it gives us something tangible to produce if we are audited by the Bar.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
8	I prefer getting hard copies of the materials, but understand it is difficult to do.	8/6/2014 10:57 AM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

9	Materials from the 404B break out session were very helpful.	8/6/2014 9:55 AM
10	I need to update my apaac account with my new Maricopa County email so I can get them. From what I saw at the conference they were really good.	8/5/2014 7:08 PM
11	The Rule 404 was excellant	8/5/2014 5:59 PM
12	From the instructor comments I expect the materials to be very useful.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
13	The 404(b) packet is great.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
14	What materials? Where was any law? Also, AGAIN, what about training for appeals? How about a break-out session with an advanced appellate writer?	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
15	Instead of giving everyone branded folios, towels, etc., I would have preferred a raffle entry for a few items more substantively related to helping me do my job. I am sadly lacking in both necessary provisions and helpful accoutrements in my current position. (e.g. one big item could be a laptop, Westlaw tomes, bar membership for a year, etc, while smaller stuff could be pocket copies of the Rules of Evidence, Black's Law Dictionary, a briefcase, etc).	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
16	The actual handouts were very worthwhile. I think the pen with the stylus was nice, but the other items with the "super prosecutor" emblem, as I indicated previously, were not very practical and I likely won't reuse them.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
18	I keep these and often use them to refer to.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

1	This was extremely informative and having all the stats to back up the presentation was great.	10/16/2014 1:00 PM
2	Materials weren't as great as I first thought. I was assuming it was a summary of law/cases -- It was a summary of their study.	8/21/2014 5:22 PM
3	Great seminar!	8/15/2014 2:24 PM
4	This speaker was engaging and knowledgeable about the subject matter.	8/14/2014 4:37 PM
5	I thought this was very interesting. It was a helpful reminder of how accusations of misconduct are just thrown around without actually having true misconduct.	8/13/2014 10:28 AM
6	Good but nothing new.	8/12/2014 10:58 AM
7	Probably the most entertaining ethics presentation i have been to.	8/7/2014 5:22 PM
8	This was without a doubt the best presentation of the conference. Fantastic information presented expertly. I really enjoyed and learned form this presenter.	8/7/2014 3:38 PM
9	Very good presenter - did an excellent job presenting the subject matter and injected humor and war stories well.	8/7/2014 1:46 PM
10	I thought this was the best session! I would love to have Mr. Kepple come back again anytime. He offered great insight into the profession and had a great delivery.	8/7/2014 1:12 PM
11	Easy to listen to, kept our attention, and useful information.	8/7/2014 10:41 AM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

12	It was tough to have an out of State speaker discuss Arizona Law and hard to stay interested in Texas cases. The materials in this section with Arizona specific law were very useful.	8/6/2014 8:29 PM
13	This presenter was very charismatic and gave great context to prosecutorial misconduct issues using real life examples. I thought this presentation was well done.	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
14	Excellent presenter.	8/6/2014 12:44 PM
15	Excellent. Great points made in a positive and constructive manner. This kind of talk could easily have gone down the road of putting up a bunker mentality against the outside forces, but it didn't.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
16	Great speaker, very engaging. Information and material was informative.	8/6/2014 10:26 AM
17	very informative and engaging. since this is such a huge issue I think it is worth tracking the progress throughout the country. Very useful when he explained how Texas looked at error vs. misconduct and how they are not the same thing.	8/6/2014 10:23 AM
18	Excellent speaker, well organized presentation, very useful information.	8/6/2014 10:01 AM
19	very good presentation	8/6/2014 9:00 AM
20	I think the stressing the definition of "prosecutorial misconduct" was an important concept. I also liked pointing out that mistakes are made and the importance of testing biological evidence when requested.	8/5/2014 6:23 PM
21	This was a very good presentation. The Speaker was very good and the information was very useful.	8/5/2014 6:00 PM
22	404 was excellent	8/5/2014 5:59 PM
23	Very useful. This gives us a chance to learn the easy way (as opposed to the hard way).	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
24	Outstanding. A balanced review of an important issue in AZ.	8/5/2014 5:55 PM
25	Enthusiastic, energetic, interesting speaker. Good use of visuals, video. Great information and "discussion".	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
26	I found this a very interesting overview of the subject, illustrated with fascinating cases.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
27	I thought this was a great speaker. I find this type of presentation far more usual than other aspects of the conference.	8/5/2014 5:46 PM
28	The guy was a good speaker and had a good presentation.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
29	He lied about the New York Yankees! Obviously a Rangers fan.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
30	He was a very good speaker that kept my attention and expertly wove in stories about real cases and people.	8/5/2014 5:40 PM
31	Awful. His pitch is train your people. Great for the few managers in the room. Also, Brady and seek justice? Virtually every prosecutor in that room knows those fundamental tenets.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
32	I thought that was a great initiative they started in Texas and would like to see APAAC do something similar where we don't get defensive and deny anything ever goes seriously wrong, but rather, put the problems in perspective and sincerely work on the problems that do exist.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
33	This was a terrific presentation, inspiring, and thoughtful.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
34	Good overview of the battle for our good name.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
35	too many of his examples came from Texas, where the rules tend to be somewhat different	8/5/2014 5:13 PM
36	The best presentation, hands down.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
37	boring	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
38	Best speaker of the conference.	8/5/2014 5:09 PM
39	Great speaker, lot's of energy.	8/5/2014 5:05 PM

1	I think the discussion is an important one to have but I would recommend something more to engage the audience.	10/16/2014 1:00 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

3	This speaker was not engaging--his voice almost put me to sleep. The information itself was somewhat useful, but not delivered in a way that kept me interested. Also, it was somewhat repetitive of a previous breakout session speaker and materials presented to the Maricopa County Attorney's Office by another speaker ("emotional survival for law enforcement" or something like that).	8/14/2014 4:37 PM
4	This seminar could have been a bit more interesting. I had trouble concentrating on the material but think that the material is very useful and definitely needed by prosecutors dealing with such stressful jobs.	8/13/2014 10:28 AM
5	good information, but he wasn't the best presenter for the material. I heard about the presentation from MCAO employees and they were very excited it was going to be available for everyone. However, it was not the same person. Kind of disappointed.	8/12/2014 6:38 PM
6	This guy lulled me into a sleep.	8/11/2014 4:41 PM
7	Good information, however the presentation seemed to be more appropriate for a smaller audience.	8/7/2014 3:38 PM
8	Monotoned speaker, blah presentation.	8/7/2014 1:46 PM
9	I learned a number of things about how to prepare myself better for trial particularly about avoiding soda and I put it to practice this week.	8/7/2014 1:12 PM
10	The Emotional Survival session in 2013 was a far better example of this kind of presentation.	8/7/2014 12:39 PM
11	We had the breakout session last year on the topic.	8/6/2014 5:47 PM
12	This presenter was very dry. I think the basic information is helpful to some, but I don't feel I needed to learn this information through APAAC. Thank you, though.	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
13	He was not the right person to present in this environment. It was very difficult to remain focused and awake during his presentation.	8/6/2014 1:52 PM
14	Might work better as a breakout session as opposed to a large group setting.	8/6/2014 11:45 AM
15	not a huge fan, have heard it a lot	8/6/2014 11:45 AM
16	He was unfortunately not very engaging.	8/6/2014 11:38 AM
17	Of all the classes on Thursday and Friday, this was the only slightly sour note. The materials were too basic for 90 minutes. The speaker obviously is sincere, but he was so monotone and low-voiced that the content was lost. Perhaps, if this was reduced to 30 or 45 minutes to hit the highlights, it would have been more easily digestible.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
18	Very dry presentation. Excellent materials and content, though.	8/6/2014 11:33 AM
19	Good information, but presented in a manner that was not engaging.	8/6/2014 10:25 AM
20	enjoyed this speaker a lot.	8/6/2014 10:23 AM
21	Not the most dynamic speaker but the presentation resonated with me as a prosecutor and the stress I am under on a pretty constant basis as a result.	8/6/2014 10:01 AM
22	Presenter seemed uncomfortable with this large a venue	8/6/2014 9:00 AM
23	Mr. Leggett had a quality presentation, but it was basically the same material as taught by Dr. Gilmartin, and Dr. Gilmartin is a more dynamic speaker.	8/5/2014 7:07 PM
24	Speaker was flat and monotone. He was difficult to follow for the entire session.	8/5/2014 7:03 PM
25	Thanks for addressing this topic.	8/5/2014 6:37 PM
26	This was the lowpoint for the conference. The speaker was dry and just read off his powerpoint. This should have been a breakout session instead of in the plenary session. I do not have an issue with someone speaking about stress and how to handle it, however I would have appreciated it coming from a prosecutor and not a police officer.	8/5/2014 6:00 PM
27	Mr. Leggett provided useful information that is pertinent to me.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
28	Speaker was slightly monotone, so it was more difficult to keep my interest.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
29	I am keeping in mind his advice, several, five or so, deep breaths, slowly drawn in and slowly let out, before encountering some stressful moment. Hopefully, doing so will help me the next time that words or ideas I have prepared to say, must come out of my mouth.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM

30	Although I think his presentation is designed for a smaller more interactive audience, I felt the content was very beneficial.	8/5/2014 5:42 PM
31	I attended the breakout session last year related to this topic and I absolutely loved it. Geoffrey was great and I thought it was important for everyone to hear someone talk about how our profession affects us physically and emotionally. It just wasn't as helpful to me since I attended last year's break out session.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
32	Was not impressed by this speaker... too dry. Topic was less than interesting.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
33	Good information. Presentation was a bit dry and long.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
34	Very boring and dry	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
35	He didn't use a mic and was difficult to hear at times even though I was in the front third.	8/5/2014 5:24 PM
36	Seriously?	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
37	While the keynote speaker was useless but entertaining, this speaker was both useless and boring. Not engaging. Not knowledgeable. Speaking on a topic that is perhaps relevant to prosecutors, but doing so from a law enforcement perspective not a legal perspective. No actual legal knowledge conveyed. No life skills (such as actual time management or stress management) conveyed.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
38	Although not the most riveting speaker, I thought he had a number of good observations that were good for us to hear, even if all didn't really apply to lawyers as opposed to people at risk of being shot at any moment.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
39	This had some helpful information, but most of it was generic common sense. The speaker was not particularly engaging.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
40	Didn't attend.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
41	would rather hear from a prosecutor about stress	8/5/2014 5:13 PM
42	I think he knows some important stuff, but may wish to do something to keep the energy flowing.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
43	boring	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
44	Mr. Leggett was knowledgeable and the information he discussed was useful. However, and perhaps I'm mistaken, having seen Dr. Gilmartin would speak and then having Mr. Leggett, who are at complete opposite ends of the spectrum as far as energy and application of materials was a bit disappointing. I recognize things happen but I believe the group would have benefitted from Dr. Gilmartin far more than Mr. Leggett.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
45	I saw this information presented last year in a break-out session by Dr. Gilmartin and know that it is very useful so it was good to see a reprisal.	8/5/2014 5:09 PM
46	Presenter mumbled so badly that I couldn't even understand what he was saying.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM
47	This was a little redundant for me...a few years ago MCAO attorneys were required to attend Dr. Gilmartin's presentation. Still, good material, and a good reminder to balance life/career.	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
#	Comments for "Ethics the Movie III presented by Steve Wilson &amp; Tom Lockridge"	Date
1	This was a very entertaining presentation. It definitely kept me engaged.	10/16/2014 1:00 PM
2	too much comedy not enough content	8/25/2014 5:45 PM
3	I like those guys.	8/25/2014 5:27 PM
4	Great as always. Their humor makes it very easy to follow and learn.	8/21/2014 5:22 PM
5	Very entertaining way to learn about ethics! I will miss them if they don't return. Thank you for having the three hours of ethics too.	8/21/2014 4:13 PM
6	Not super useful, but very entertaining.	8/18/2014 4:08 PM
7	Great, as always!	8/15/2014 2:24 PM
8	Really happy to have a lot of ethics this year. The lack of ethics was a major problem last year, so I'm glad APAAC fixed that. These speakers were knowledgeable and fun to listen to. Also, the movie was an entertaining way to present various ethical quandries that many prosecutors encounter regularly.	8/14/2014 4:37 PM
9	This kept my interest the entire presentation.	8/13/2014 10:28 AM
10	Very well prepared, learned a lot. Good way to get our ethics.	8/12/2014 6:38 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

11	It just seemed too ridiculous. Although I do know two other prosecutors who loved it.	8/12/2014 10:58 AM
12	I really liked this one.	8/11/2014 3:49 PM
13	Entertaining. Kept my interest. Good points on ethics were made during the presentation.	8/11/2014 11:42 AM
14	These guys are great.	8/7/2014 1:12 PM
15	Entertaining and useful in the format provided.	8/7/2014 10:41 AM
16	Ethics the movie III was not quite as good as movies I and II.	8/7/2014 10:33 AM
17	Same comment as above. The out of State speakers were hard to relate to. The materials in this section were very useful.	8/6/2014 8:29 PM
18	This was pretty good. It went a little too long, though.	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
19	They seemed to enjoy making the movie. Funny and engaging.	8/6/2014 3:53 PM
20	This was my first year attending APAAC, I would be very interested in seeing Ethics the Movie 1 & 2, especially if offered as online download.	8/6/2014 1:17 PM
21	Entertaining as always.	8/6/2014 11:45 AM
22	Not as good as Ethics the Movie II, but it was close. The speakers are great, and the videos are cheesy, but entertaining. I was a little surprised that they missed some basic Arizona ethics rules, since it was obvious that they had reviewed them. For example, they talked about the conflict of a lawyer in a law firm, but they seemed to miss the exception provided by our ethical rules for public lawyers. There was also another glaring one at the time that has now escaped me, because I did not write it down. But these are minor criticisms to an excellent overall program.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
23	Not as good as their previous presentations, but ok.	8/6/2014 10:26 AM
24	very funny and useful.	8/6/2014 10:23 AM
25	The presentation was a little slow moving and became boring at points.	8/6/2014 10:01 AM
26	Their presentation was entertaining and very helpful to prosecutors.	8/6/2014 9:55 AM
27	I THOROUGHLY ENJOYED ETHICS THE MOVIE III. I HOPE THEY CONTINUE TO MAKE THESE EDUCATIONAL, ENTERTAINING FILMS!	8/6/2014 9:04 AM
28	Entertaining presentation with some good "real life" scenarios	8/6/2014 9:00 AM
29	their past presentations have been much better.	8/5/2014 9:29 PM
30	I think the session could have been shortened.	8/5/2014 6:37 PM
31	Enjoyable; good refresher on some of the ethical rules	8/5/2014 6:23 PM
32	I thought they were able to present useful information in an entertaining format.	8/5/2014 6:16 PM
33	Best Ethics Movie to date.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
34	Funny and very relevant.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
35	They taught us important principles of ethics very effectively, using their new movie. These two from Kentucky are funny too. "Margaritas!" Steve said, referring to the icebreaker at the end of the first day. "In Kentucky," he added, "we drink bourbon." They may not come back. I hope that is not so.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
36	The movie was a great way to make the presentation of this material more interesting. I also thought Steve and Tom kept me entertained.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
37	These guys are always the best Dynamic Duo for Ethics presentation!! Always entertaining...	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
38	I love these guys.	8/5/2014 5:40 PM
39	Tremendously entertaining and thought-provoking, as always.	8/5/2014 5:25 PM
40	I loved this session! I thought it was funny while being very useful. The two presenters were easy to understand despite being from Kentucky. But, I especially appreciated their discussion of the value of taking the victim's feelings into account in making a decision to prosecute a domestic violence case. Some of our prosecutors haven't understood that, and it was good to hear it from a speaker in a position of authority.	8/5/2014 5:24 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

41	This was just downright awful.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
42	The (corny) movie made the talk take a long time, but the lessons were useful reminders and illustrations.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
43	This was good and useful information and was presented in an entertaining way. I'm not sure I would have dedicated a half a day to it, but no real complaints.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
44	Although not quite as fun as I've heard previous years were, I thought it was great to get a broad, yet detailed, review of our ethical rules.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
45	Thank you for providing ethics credits during the conference.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
46	A whole afternoon of ethics was a lot to get through. But the speakers were fun and engaging. I also liked the movie-themed snacks offered at break.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
47	Entertaining and useful.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
48	Love these guys! Fun and educational - with great examples! Seriously, how do they make ethics fun??	8/5/2014 5:13 PM
49	These guys really rock. They are funny and bright.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
50	One of the best ethics presentations I've seen. Both useful and engaging.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM

#	Comments for "Kryptonite at Trial is Deadly on Appeal"	Date
1	Wanted it to be longer and perhaps a discussion on trends that are developing at the court of appeals	8/26/2014 6:05 PM
2	Great materials.	8/21/2014 5:22 PM
3	The speaker was not especially experienced.	8/14/2014 4:37 PM
4	It was very interesting to learn more about what we can do at the trial court level to assist with future appeals.	8/13/2014 10:28 AM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

5	Little bit too reciting power point...best interaction was from attendees who had appellate experience and shared... maybe practice power-pointing a bit more.	8/7/2014 1:11 PM
6	It was too basic for anyone with more than a couple years experience and did not focus enough on specific tactics. The presenter was unable to answer most of the questions presented by the audience. Ran 30 minutes short.	8/7/2014 12:39 PM
7	The presenter read his slides and ended real early.	8/6/2014 5:47 PM
8	Should be included in "baby prosecutor school."	8/6/2014 5:02 PM
9	This was geared towards newer attorneys, which is fine. It is difficult to make a breakout session that appeals (pun intended) to both newer and older lawyers.	8/6/2014 1:52 PM
10	Although the information was useful, the speaker was dull.	8/6/2014 1:25 PM
11	Excellent job by the presenter, great materials.	8/6/2014 11:33 AM
12	The presenter was monotonous and did not seem very excited about what he was doing.	8/6/2014 10:19 AM
13	The presenter did not use the entire time and most of the information was common sense if you have done any trials.	8/6/2014 9:50 AM
14	Presentation was a bit dull, though the speaker clearly knew his stuff—just needs some work on delivery!	8/6/2014 9:35 AM
15	Was unable to attend.	8/6/2014 8:34 AM
16	I expected a little more discussion about what I can do as a trial attorney to prevent appealable issues. Perhaps a review of the most common errors causing appeals would have been helpful.	8/5/2014 7:07 PM
17	Speaker was very good and the materials were very useful. I would have appreciated more information about what are the common arguments on appeal.	8/5/2014 6:00 PM
18	rather basic	8/5/2014 5:59 PM
19	Good information. All on point.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
20	The speaker was very monotone, so again, I have a hard time paying attention. Also, visuals were paragraphs in small fonts.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
21	very helpful insights	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
22	It was a good refresher.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
23	Hoped to see more trial attorneys attend.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
24	material was useful, but presentation skills were somewhat lacking. Basically projected onto a screen the outline that was included in our materials, and read the outline to us.	8/5/2014 5:32 PM
25	Information provided was too basic.	8/5/2014 5:29 PM
26	This had some valuable information which I had not known previously.	8/5/2014 5:24 PM
27	The spoken presentation added little discussion to a wordy PowerPoint. I learned some new things about appellate review but further explanation could have been given on most points raised by the presenter.	8/5/2014 5:22 PM
28	Good young speaker covered many useful points.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
29	Some good basic information....It gave me a new found appreciation for people doing appeals. I think a few stories would have helped.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
30	Very short, and the presenter did not come across as being experienced.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
31	I presented this breakout session.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
32	boring	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
33	The speaker was informative but the material was more of a basic summary. I would recommend this topic be given again in the future as I found it was a useful reminder of things that need to be done as a trial attorney. However, I would ask that the presenter provide more examples of how things can be done in different scenarios, based on actual cases.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

34	Presentation was only 45-minutes long and mostly consisted of reminding everyone to preserve issues in the trial court so they can be raised on appeal.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM
35	Great stuff...I attended this one in lieu of the animal cruelty presentation	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
36	Would have been more fruitful if the speaker were more experienced.	8/5/2014 5:06 PM
#	Comments for "Science &amp; the Superhero"	Date
1	VERY basic- would have liked for the presenters to talk more about the intricacies of DNA and DNA testimony at trial.	8/22/2014 10:51 AM
2	This was very basic DNA information. It would have been more helpful to hear more in-depth about DNA, including how to go about presenting DNA evidence at trial.	8/7/2014 4:12 PM
3	I liked the presentation. I think that one of the things they brought up (contacting the crime lab to let them know a case has resolved and no testing needs to be done) should be something that APAAC might take up as a cause that would eliminate the phantom backlog of testing.	8/7/2014 1:12 PM
4	The crime lab presented more and their policies of when and how they will test DNA. This will be useful to some. However, I would have preferred to have more instruction on the actual DNA science itself, not just an overview of crime lab policies.	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
5	Great refresher on DNA!	8/6/2014 3:37 PM
6	Same comments as above.	8/6/2014 1:52 PM
7	I think this seminar missed the mark. It would likely have been more useful to investigators. I was expecting more information about how to evaluate, decipher and analyze the science for trial preparation. While I think the presenters were clearly very knowledgeable, the focus was not helpful to prosecutors	8/6/2014 11:54 AM
8	Excellent course for those of us that are not well-versed in DNA. I suspect they provided some nuggets of info even for those that handle DNA cases more often. My wife, who is a paralegal, suggested that this course should be included in the Legal Assistant Conference, because they are one the ones that deal with the labs more than the attorneys.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
9	Very basic	8/5/2014 7:03 PM
10	Could have been more technical	8/5/2014 6:23 PM
11	Needed less DPS policy discussion and more of the actual science.	8/5/2014 5:55 PM
12	Good presentation on DNA.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
13	Next time, suggest a DNA talk directed at responses to typical defense strategies.	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
14	Great seminar.	8/5/2014 5:10 PM

3	She's the Guru!	8/25/2014 5:27 PM
4	I enjoyed the presentation. Beth Barnes was a good speaker, and gave us useful information. I appreciated DUI being a topic this year. We do many DUI cases in the City of Tucson.	8/11/2014 11:42 AM
5	This was hands down the most useful session!!! Beth Barnes is awesome!	8/7/2014 1:21 PM
6	Beth is a great speaker and extremely knowledgeable. Her presentation was top rate.	8/7/2014 10:41 AM

10	Love Beth, great as always, really useful material.	8/5/2014 7:03 PM
11	Beth is a good presenter; she is energetic and enthusiastic. She always tries to add new stuff, but often, the majority is repelitive if you have attended another presentation recently or keep up with her emails.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

12	This is the most useful topic to my area of prosecution and was definitely the most worthwhile as I handle a very large amount of DUI's. Staying up to date is always the best part of this annual conference.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
13	Beth Barnes is an amazing resource.	8/5/2014 5:40 PM
14	Hampered by a useless superhero theme. Otherwise educational and entertaining.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
15	We all walk out wishing we had Beth's brain. She is terrific.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
16	Love Beth Barnes!	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

1	This was the most practically useful presentation I attended.	10/16/2014 1:00 PM
2	I would like to see more training on subjects like this - ie, that have some level of application and relevance.	9/9/2014 4:12 PM
3	I found Jonathan to be offensive at times. He consistently portrayed himself as the prosecutor on the cases he was discussing when in fact he was not. When he spoke last year, I was shocked to later discover that he didn't even take to trial that insanity case he talked about. Plus he provided none of the motions in his materials that he suggested be filed. I do not know why APAAC keeps using him when he is not very seasoned. Joe would have been fine on his own.	8/28/2014 10:43 AM
4	No disrespect to JM, but I really wanted to hear more from the appellate lawyer. The man has practiced in that area for as long as Mosher has been a lawyer and his opinions should have been given greater priority despite not being as out going as Mosher.	8/26/2014 6:05 PM
5	Great materials.	8/26/2014 2:49 PM
6	This prosecutor is thorough and excellent.	8/25/2014 5:45 PM
7	Fantastic. The materials were above and beyond.	8/25/2014 5:27 PM

9	One of the better trainings I have been to.	8/18/2014 12:43 PM
10	This was very well presented and extremely useful. I walked out feeling I understood 404(b) better than when I walked in.	8/13/2014 10:28 AM
11	I have not yet reviewed the materials, but as they were being described, I think these materials will be very useful.	8/12/2014 12:45 PM

13	I wish I would have had this presentation years ago. Very helpful, well presented.	8/11/2014 8:27 AM
14	Very relevant - clear and direct presentation.	8/7/2014 4:23 PM

16	Great presentation.	8/7/2014 1:12 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

25	These presenters did an outstanding job of explaining the rule and giving different situations where they've had experience using the rule. Very informative and entertaining.	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
26	As stated above, very informative and the materials will be very helpful.	8/6/2014 3:37 PM
27	Exceptional presentation. Johnathan did a great job of including case law with examples and other things to make it captivating. He is an exceptional teacher. I've been to one of his other classes and thought the same thing.	8/6/2014 2:53 PM
28	The speaker tried to get to much material in, and glossed over important material	8/6/2014 1:25 PM
29	Very enjoyable and effective presentation.	8/6/2014 12:44 PM
30	Great presentation.	8/6/2014 11:54 AM
31	Very good. At the outset, I feared that Jonathan would outshine Joe with his personality and one-liners. But Joe held his own in his understated way, and the session came off very informative and helpful.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
32	Loved the interplay between Joe and Jonathan.	8/6/2014 11:33 AM
33	Good presentation.	8/6/2014 10:26 AM

38	Jonathan Mosher was fantastic.	8/6/2014 7:42 AM
39	Mosher does a good job. well prepared.	8/5/2014 9:29 PM
40	Very good.	8/5/2014 7:07 PM
41	It would be nice to take any of the topics and give examples that are relevant to a misdemeanor jurisdiction.	8/5/2014 6:16 PM
42	Excellent! materials were very good and Jonathan Mosher is always excellent. I would really appreciate if Jonathan Mosher presented again next year.	8/5/2014 6:00 PM
43	Again excellant	8/5/2014 5:59 PM
44	This was great. The presenters were lively, good interaction, professional and engaging. I have never seen a better 404(b) presentation. I submitted a 404(b) motion earlier in the week and even though I had bee up to my neck in the relevant cases, the presenters gave me so much more context and depth. It was my favorite class Very worthwhile.	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
45	This was absolutely the best training I have ever received concerning Rule 404(b). Jonathan and Joe knocked this one out of the ballpark.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
46	Great class. I thought it was a great idea to have a trial attorney and appellate attorney discuss this material simultaneously to get their different perspectives.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
47	Best breakout session I have ever attended.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
48	Best material presented at the conference.	8/5/2014 5:29 PM
49	This lesson was the most useful out of all sessions on all days. The materials summarizing most of the relevant cases and providing their citations look to be handy for starting on a successful Rule 404(b) motion.	8/5/2014 5:22 PM
50	Mosher should be handling Supreme Court updates. He is too good to be wasting on break-out sessions.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
51	Well presented.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
52	This one was first rate	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
53	Very helpful materials and presentation. Engaging presenters.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM

55	Awesome.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

56	I find Mr. Mosher a fun, engaging and exciting presenter every year I've heard him speak. He always has energy. He presents material in a common sense, practical way. Having Mr. Maziarz along with him I felt was a benefit. Hearing the application of the materials between a trial attorney and appellate attorney provided for great perspective.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
57	Awesome...this was the highlight of the week for me.	8/5/2014 5:07 PM

1	I'd appreciate a Juvenile breakout that focused on process problems and solutions - like here's a hypothetical problem Yavapai County has - how do we fix it - so more of a collaborative breakout. But this was good.	9/15/2014 2:39 PM
2	Not useful to me; but I would think those confronting JDAI found it very useful—good discussion; small group. I found the information informative.	8/5/2014 6:23 PM
3	I am speaking to the information my fellow panel members from Pima and Pinal provided. I was a speaker as well but won't rate my own presentation!	8/5/2014 5:42 PM
4	Poorly attended, but the speakers were knowledgeable and the discussion was worthwhile.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
5	It was great to get a heads-up on some seemingly big changes that will be hitting us. I was great to hear how other offices are coping with the changes too.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM

2	great topic	8/25/2014 5:45 PM
3	This information was so helpful as these issues come up and no one seems to know the answers. The speaker was on point and very helpful in answering follow up questions. Great session!	8/7/2014 9:02 AM
4	very useful information	8/6/2014 11:45 AM
5	I was very pleased with this presentation and feel much more informed on the interstate compact as well as feeling like I now have somewhere authoritative to turn when I have a question in this area.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
6	Actually a bit terrifying as it appears that our municipal court is doing things in violation of the interstate compact. Presenter was very organized and helpful.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM

1	The snacks during the day were awesome so keep those going, or maybe increase them the frequency of snacks to a snack bar going all day on both days! The rooms were awesome - Westin does it right!	9/15/2014 2:39 PM
2	Thank you for everything, Jim	9/9/2014 3:26 PM
3	These themes for the conferences the last few years are silly, ridiculous and EXTREMELY unprofessional. Superheroes???? C'mon are we 12 years old?? When prosecutors are getting crucified in the media this is no way to portray us.	8/28/2014 10:43 AM
4	Tone back the theme just a little.	8/26/2014 2:49 PM
5	I felt the conference focused too much on ethics. An even split between ethics and substantive practice would be preferred. Overall, you did a great job.	8/26/2014 12:27 PM
6	Loved LOVED popcorn and candy!	8/25/2014 5:45 PM
7	Put a young city prosecutor in charge of that Armand character, he needs more supervision!	8/25/2014 5:27 PM
8	Great job!!!	8/22/2014 4:55 PM
9	There are phenomenal resources within this State that could be used more	8/22/2014 4:32 PM
10	No need to give out tshirts/bags etc with all of the logos on them. I would be fine with APAAC keeping the money for other things.	8/21/2014 5:22 PM
11	Great conference this year and very well-organized. I will miss the Westin La Paloma as the conference location and hope next year's conference is just as good!	8/21/2014 5:18 PM
12	Another excellent conference.	8/21/2014 5:15 PM
13	Super-Prosecutor towels for all registered prosecutors, not just the ones going to the lunch.	8/21/2014 5:06 PM
14	Thank you for providing our ethics hours at the conference! I suggest that rather than providing gifts such as shirts that the money used to purchase the items be donated to a women's shelter. I loved the idea of donating the soaps to the shelter!	8/21/2014 4:22 PM
15	Thank you for covering all of our Ethics! Please continue that in future years!	8/21/2014 4:16 PM
16	As always the three hours of ethics! Thank you for the three this year. I think too having more on the link in a full session, rather than break out session, is very important. I don't believe animal cruelty cases are taken seriously, and I think hearing from Kathy Mayer and Mike Duffay and those from the coalition on domestic violence and probation and myself or anyone else from misdemeanors will help get the point across that these cases are important in and of themselves, but also because of the link between animal cruelty and human violence. This is especially so in the context of domestic violence.	8/21/2014 4:13 PM
17	Though I can understand the desire to have a fun and lighthearted atmosphere, the opening remarks and guy in the super hero costume seemed to diminish any prestige associated with being nominated for and receiving an award.	8/18/2014 4:08 PM
18	I like how it is coinciding with the judicial conference next year.	8/18/2014 12:43 PM
19	This year was very organized and the speakers were engaging and provided meaningful and substantial information. Thank you.	8/18/2014 12:23 PM
20	Thank you! As always, this was a great seminar!	8/15/2014 2:24 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

21	Please please please stop doing cheesy themes. Last year it was the 70s. This year it was the super hero thing. It makes the whole experience seem somewhat juvenile. You're not creating a conference for 9th graders. We are all adult professionals. The conference should reflect that. If you're going to be giving away swag like notebooks and t-shirts, just drop the theme. I can't go into a meeting with our law enforcement prosecutors carrying a notebook that looks like a childish superman rip off. I'm never going to wear a t-shirt with a giant P is for Prosecutor on it. My suggestion would be that you stop handing out these items anyway—save the money, or donate the money you would have spent to a worthy cause decided by the APAAC board. If you insist on handing stuff out, a small tasteful APAAC logo is the most you need. Other than that, I thought the speakers this year were very good for the most part. Again, thank you for incorporating ethics into the conference this year.	8/14/2014 4:37 PM
22	You guys always do such a great job, thank you :)	8/14/2014 4:12 PM
23	"Hold the applause until the end for introductions and candidates and winners ..." If we add up "clapping-time" I'm guessing we spend 45 minutes of the conference applauding. It's excessive.	8/14/2014 11:36 AM
24	Stay more professional and less theme oriented.	8/13/2014 10:44 AM
25	None, APAAC does a good job every year.	8/13/2014 1:18 AM
26	This was one of the best years in recent history. I would like to see more opportunities to mingle with people from other offices / former co-workers. I wouldn't mind even a little longer of a session to do so. Would love to consider going to Flagstaff to their new convention center!!! HINT HINT. Also, maybe have volunteer activities over weekend or after seminar. Discounts for weekend?	8/12/2014 6:38 PM
27	I am not a fan of the sophomoric themes and goodies. I like getting a shirt and towel but there is no way I would wear a shirt with a giant P on it. Super Pussy is what I heard people calling it. I would love however to get a shirt that had the APAAC logo on it. That is something I could wear casually and professionally.	8/12/2014 5:07 PM
28	I don't think there really is a need for a theme to the conference.	8/12/2014 5:02 PM
29	I was very happy with all the ethics we received, usually we don't get enough ethics. The reimbursement amounts for food are low. It is not possible to eat breakfast at the hotel within the amount allotted.	8/12/2014 12:45 PM
30	The Friday hearings seemed really good this year but unfortunately I had to leave. I wish Thursday would have been half ethics and half something different like search and seizure update or something.	8/12/2014 10:58 AM
31	Christine Cabanillas, latest update on search & seizure &/or 5th amendment, if she has done one.	8/11/2014 3:48 PM
32	Continue to have sections on Ethics and misdemeanors for prosecutors from cities.	8/11/2014 11:42 AM
33	no comments at this time	8/11/2014 10:17 AM
34	Appreciated the food provided on Thursday afternoon, which was a change from years prior.	8/11/2014 9:53 AM
35	Nothing - as always FANTASTIC job - big thanks	8/7/2014 6:24 PM
36	Expand the program to start Wednesday at 1:30 and go to Friday at 5:00 to provide 15 hours of CLE. The T-shirts were not really useful - the polo shirts of past conferences are more practical.	8/7/2014 4:23 PM
37	I am excited for the new venue and hope that the Tucson folks can stay at the hotel to improve networking amongst the agencies.	8/7/2014 2:19 PM
38	I thought the event was great and well organized. Well done!	8/7/2014 1:12 PM
39	Perhaps a more efficient award show style for all introductions. 1) A video of each of the board members introducing themselves instead of reading their names, waiting for them to stand and wave, round of applause, etc... 2) "The nominees for Felony Prosecutor of the Year are: Scott Blake for Spice and Bath Salts Prosecutions, Aaron Harder for the Jakscht trial, etc..." 3) Have vendors do 30 second pre-recorded commercials instead of coming to the stage	8/7/2014 12:39 PM
40	Too much ethics. We only need 3 hours a year, and 6 was just too much. Better to have substantive topics, such as Supreme Court update. The lunch was awful. The pork was dry and the servings small. I would strongly suggest going back to the Mexican buffet.	8/7/2014 12:37 PM
41	Addressing specific crime areas such as arson, sex assault, etc. The sessions were too basic and general to be useful. The breakout session size of the class should be the size of all of the classes. More instructors would be needed, but the classes are then more engaging.	8/7/2014 11:15 AM
42	Continue to provide 3 hours of ethics at each conference. Moving the date to coincide with the judicial conference is a long overdue change!	8/6/2014 5:02 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

43	Keep up the good work. I don't think a lot of people were too excited about the super-hero theme and the way the awards were introduced at the opening remarks. Nevertheless, the APAAC staff did an awesome job of putting together a great conference. Thank you all!	8/6/2014 4:59 PM
44	CLE should be included on first day.	8/6/2014 3:53 PM
45	As always the conference was wonderfully organized! I would love to see the polo shirts as a giveaway again--myself and quite a few of my colleagues wear them to work--they are great quality and very professional looking. Thanks.	8/6/2014 3:37 PM
46	Great conference as usual. My family and me look forward to it each year. Love the resort. Thank you.	8/6/2014 3:34 PM
47	Although not as much fun as this year's t-shirts I think the traditional polos given out at past conferences are much more useful, especially the non-white colored variety.	8/6/2014 3:28 PM
48	Law related keynote speaker. Great organization. Keep up the great work.	8/6/2014 2:53 PM
49	Christine Cabanillas	8/6/2014 2:33 PM
50	None	8/6/2014 2:02 PM
51	Training on restitution and related issues	8/6/2014 1:57 PM
52	The biggest suggestion is to have two versions of the plenary sessions - one for newer attorneys and one for more experienced attorneys	8/6/2014 1:52 PM
53	It was a fantastic conference, thank you. The only complaint I have is that printing the materials is laborous and is a waste of paper. I would have preferred to have a flash drive with all of the materials on it as a gift rather than a "prosecutor" t-shirt (or any of the other gifts). I won't wear the shirt in the community due to safety concerns and I have plenty of pens. One very useful gift is much more valuable to me than a bunch of things I will never use.	8/6/2014 11:54 AM
54	I thought the conference was very good. I had to leave for court early Friday am so I didn't get to hear the second day. 6 hours of ethics is awesome. I think some training in how to deal with mitigation, including how to review mental health evals, would be helpful for the entire group.	8/6/2014 11:45 AM
55	This year, I have no suggestions for improvement. It was excellently planned, organized and presented.	8/6/2014 11:36 AM
56	3 hours of ethics is enough. I would offer more substantive law because this is the time and place for busy attorneys to learn of recent law that was decided while they were in trial.	8/6/2014 11:33 AM
57	Great conference - thanks for all the hard work!	8/6/2014 11:27 AM
58	Keep doing what you are doing!	8/6/2014 10:58 AM
59	Ensure all sessions with speakers (not the awards, intro, etc.) get CLE credit	8/6/2014 10:57 AM
60	Thank you for the extra ethic hours.	8/6/2014 10:12 AM
61	thank you for having some ethics in the presentations. I would like to see some type of review of recent Supreme Court decisions as part of the seminar. APAAC always does a great job planning, arranging and conducting the annual prosecutors conference. Thank you for another exceptional conference.	8/6/2014 9:55 AM
62	Thank for the food. Well done.	8/6/2014 9:50 AM
63	I was a bit dissappointed in the content. I believe the search and seizure presentation by Christina Caballos is usually very helpful and I like having the updates on constitutional law.	8/6/2014 9:35 AM
64	You probably won't get many frank critiques unless this process is anonymous.	8/6/2014 9:33 AM
65	Great job this year! Can't wait to come back next year!	8/6/2014 9:27 AM
66	GREAT JOB ONCE AGAIN!	8/6/2014 9:12 AM
67	Maybe I'm old and crusty, but the cutesy theme just doesn't resonate with me.	8/6/2014 9:00 AM
68	Again, I would appreciate more substantive law sessions.	8/6/2014 7:31 AM
69	Nice work, thank you!!	8/5/2014 7:08 PM
70	Supreme Court update is always useful at this conference.	8/5/2014 7:03 PM
71	Again, you folks are great. I only attended on Thursday, but am glad I made the trip. Thanks!	8/5/2014 6:37 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

72	Wonderful conference Thank you for all your hard work in putting it together!	8/5/2014 6:27 PM
73	In one sense, prosecution has a very simple focus—searching for the truth. Once the truth is established, justice can be applied. I think next year we should have one of the major sessions focused on the importance of the search for truth; reviewing the three actual innocence cases in Arizona, and have a wrongly convicted person be part of the presentation.	8/5/2014 6:23 PM
74	I thought the super prosecutor theme was overdone and somewhat unprofessional, I would prefer more emphasis on substantive training rather than ethics.	8/5/2014 6:21 PM
75	I thought the conference was very well planned and executed. Kudos to Elizabeth and the rest of the APAAC staff.	8/5/2014 6:16 PM
76	I believe Thursday should be all break out type sessions on various topics that attorneys submit as topics they would like to hear. For example, 404(b) is extremely helpful, jury selection, voir dire, etc.	8/5/2014 6:02 PM
77	I appreciate your efforts and work put into this conference. It is always organized well and valuable to the prosecutor.	8/5/2014 6:02 PM
78	No suggestions. Elizabeth & Co. outdid themselves. Every single class was high quality and on point. My favorite summer conference to date so far as the material presented. KH	8/5/2014 5:56 PM
79	The snacks during break on Thursday were a WONDERFUL addition! Really enjoyed the pretzel.	8/5/2014 5:54 PM
80	I had some trouble this year clearly hearing those who were addressing us. Seemingly, the clarity of the audio system could have been better.	8/5/2014 5:53 PM
81	I would have liked to see a little less Ethics and a little more practical information. I miss Richard Wintory's presentations.	8/5/2014 5:46 PM
82	I prefer more substantive instruction at APAAC conferences. I rarely heard mention of any case name or statute during the entire conference. I believe the conference should focus on case law, statutes, ethics, and prosecution techniques. Compared to past years I felt I gained little useful information from this conference.	8/5/2014 5:46 PM
83	I appreciate the creativity used to keep the conference interesting but I think the superhero theme was too light-hearted when most of us deal with serious, dangerous or horribly violent cases. Please don't misinterpret this in any way to think that I'm not appreciative of the hard work y'all put into the conference. I can tell you put a lot of effort into it. I just think it should be a bit more serious.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
84	Great to finally get all the required ethics credits in the annual conference. Perhaps next year we can work on the overall hours to include more CLE over the 2 days of conference time.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
85	I like the change in date next year. I don't personally feel that a theme is necessary for a good conference. Different way to do the keynote, but I liked it overall. She was a very good presenter. That kind of variety is good. I like all the ethics and the breakout options.	8/5/2014 5:41 PM
86	Fewer national speakers that aren't familiar with Arizona law and more Arizona criminal law/procedure issues.	8/5/2014 5:36 PM
87	I can appreciate efforts to keep the conference fun and light-hearted. Nevertheless, this year's superhero theme was juvenile, insulting, and unprofessional. Even the names of the Friday sessions were difficult to understand because of efforts to carry through this unnecessary theme. The ill-conceived theme was even carried through to the "gifts" by splashing the silly logo all over everything including the pad-folio. In the past, the summer conference shirts were good quality collared polo-type shirts with the professional looking APAAC logo. They could be worn on many appropriate occasions with pride. Frankly, I cannot see any use for a plain white T-shirt with the silly super-prosecutor logo splattered across the chest. The same goes for the super-cheap, see-through thin, narrow "beach towel" with the silly logo. It simply is not useful. In the future let's return to the long-standing tradition of putting on a professional conference, without the silliness.	8/5/2014 5:32 PM
88	The breakout sessions were great. I would prefer to have more of them in the future, either by cutting into the ethics portion of the conference or by extending the last day to a full day.	8/5/2014 5:30 PM
89	I am confused as to why there was six hours of Ethics CLE when we can only use 3 a year. Carryover is fine, but only three can be transferred every year. Because next year's conference is set before the end of the current CLE year any Ethics credit at next years conference will not be able to be carried over.	8/5/2014 5:29 PM
90	I like that you had a lot of ethics hours. Keep that up!	8/5/2014 5:29 PM
91	Cute titles for breakout sessions were not helpful when registering.	8/5/2014 5:27 PM

2014 APAAC Annual Prosecutor Conference

92	This was the second summer conference I've attended. So far, I've found advice from Arizona practitioners to be more useful than that from out-of-state guest speakers both in the full group setting and in the breakout sessions.	8/5/2014 5:22 PM
93	Easily, train on the law!!!!!! Stop inviting your friends / counterparts from other states and start getting real practitioners to teach on the law. How about some break-out sessions / training for advanced writing / appellate advocacy? The UofA legal writing professor has a column in every bar magazine for God's sake. I'm sure she'd be happy to offer a session on effective legal writing. How about Bryan Garner? Bring back the Supreme Court updates. This was a very, very bad conference. I didn't take a single note the entire conference that would help me in practice. Awful conference.	8/5/2014 5:21 PM
94	I would benefit more from increased focus and scheduling of the CLE-esque seminars.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
95	Every single plenary speaker should be discussing something that is both relevant and targeted to prosecutors. Instead we got a motivational speaker, and the least interesting, least knowledgeable "stress management" speaker I have heard. I would rather have heard someone get up and review the year's relevant search and seizure law, or state bar opinions, or legislative developments, or anything else relevant to prosecution. I understand it is difficult to find speakers who can address topics that are relevant to all aspects of prosecution. But better to cover something like search and seizure law, that is relevant to 90% of us, than something that isn't relevant to any of us.	8/5/2014 5:19 PM
96	I would just prefer the gimmicks (superheroes in this case) be dropped. If the majority of prosecutors think they're fun, then so be it, but if the majority feel more as I do, the gimmicks are really unnecessary and make me feel like the seriousness and importance of what we do is being diminished. I'm all for lots of humor at a conference, but the gimmicks those used in this conference reach a level where I just feel uncomfortable, as well as sort of ruining the great gifts that are part of the conference (I personally don't think I could use a padfolio with the big P superman emblem on it in court)	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
97	I wish I could have attend more of the break-out sessions.	8/5/2014 5:17 PM
98	Outstanding presentations this year. Thanks.	8/5/2014 5:16 PM
99	Again, take the $$ spent on freebies and pay APAAC staff or defray cost of future programs.	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
100	The conference was educational and fun. I really enjoyed it.	8/5/2014 5:15 PM
101	Three hours of ethics is enough. Need something like a Supreme Court review. Better food, maybe a Mexican food buffet.	8/5/2014 5:14 PM
102	I am glad to see it going elsewhere, but be careful.....I have been to a number of family and professional events at Starr Pass and the parking issues are terrible, but it is beautiful.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
103	Please select a professional theme in the future. And, instead of wasting APAAC's budget on t-shirts, that no one will ever wear again, or on towels that will end up being used to check the oil on my car, instead donate the money to a victim's fund or save it for future years. The theme was absolutely silly, and made the conference feel like a children's summer camp. I don't mean to be so harsh, but it's true. No one will EVER wear that t-shirt outside of that conference. The portfolio looks silly, and can't be carried to meetings with police officers or detectives. I realize you and others worked hard on the conference, but the theme made all of APAAC's hard work turn into a children's theme party.	8/5/2014 5:11 PM
104	Thought it was a great seminar. Very well organized and all the snacks/drinks were a nice touch.	8/5/2014 5:10 PM
105	This was my first time attending, so I don't have much to suggest. I thought all of the speakers were engaging and funny. I had an extremely positive experience and learned a lot!	8/5/2014 5:09 PM
106	Please provide more information on what the focus will be of each break-out session at the time that we register for the sessions we plan to attend. The titles did not adequately explain what each session would cover.	8/5/2014 5:09 PM
107	I don't think we need a keynote speaker. I think a government attorney who is held in high regard would be sufficient.	8/5/2014 5:09 PM
108	Dump the opening remarks and fit conference into Thursday/Friday only. Glad we had ethics CLE this year.	8/5/2014 5:08 PM
109	I sure would like for APAAC to purchase/use a popcorn machine at the trainings. Tasty and fairly healthy as a pick-me-up snack!	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
110	More breakout sessions, they are fantastic.	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
111	Looking forward to next year!	8/5/2014 5:07 PM
112	Shorter sessions, difficult to maintain attention for such long periods of time.	8/5/2014 5:06 PM
